Level 747: "Beyond the Clouds"

"I always hated flying. The thought of being trapped in a massive metal tube for 16 hours never really appealed to me. So when I found myself here, I thought I was in actual hell.

I took a look left and right and stared down the aisle that seemed to be miles long.

However, after regaining my composure, I realized that it's not as bad as I thought.

I didn't feel like I was moving, and the whirring of the engines was oddly unbothering.

Still, how the hell do I get out of here?!"
